A Worthy Project

THE possibility of raising the level of Gull Lake by diverting the waters of the eastern branch of the Blindman River into the Lake has once more come to life. This matter was taken up at the annual meeting of the Village of Gull Lake and two men appointed to look into the matter. Now the Board of Trade of Lacombe and District has taken up the study and possibilities of such a scheme. A committee of two was appointed at a recent executive meeting to probe into the matter and ascertain its feasibility. This committee will report back at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade to be held on October 17.

The plan is certainly one which should be investigated thoroughly. If the project is not feasible, then there is nothing more to do. But if it is feasible it should be supported by every organization in an endeavor to get the project under way. It is common knowledge that the lake has receded close to 200 yards down the main beach at Aspen. It is to its normal level, a more beautiful summer resort will result. Both are ideals which should be striven for.

With the lake back to its normal level, one can visualize Gull Lake once more as the mecca of tourists during the summer. A prosperous beach community is a more prosperous town and district. Back to its normal level, a more beautiful summer resort will result. Both are ideals which should be striven for.

Chamberlain the Peacemaker

THE Treaty of Versailles is taking quite a beating these days. The world rejoiced in 1919 when the Treaty between the Allies and the German nation was signed. Now the world rejoices that another clause of the Treaty has been forsaken and done away with. Since 1930 the German nation has re-armed against the terms of the treaty; they have seized the Rhineland against the terms of the Treaty; they have annexed Austria against the terms of the Treaty, and now they have been granted a slice of Czechoslovakia, which, however much democrats may wish to claim, does not belong to them, is truly German property—in language and in race.

One of the official spokesmen who attended the great four-power conference last week stated: "You must remember that we are correcting a grave mistake we made at Versailles." That is all. They have corrected a mistake which was made almost twenty years ago. Some will criticize the British Government for "giving away to dictators" and the "lost prestige of the British nation," but citizens of England, the British Commonwealth of Nations and the world in general will thank Chamberlain for his efforts in averting a general European war.

For, it was God come, Britain would have been fighting against a nation which was demanding only what was rightfully theirs. Of this there is no doubt. No matter how one might dislike or detest dictators, in this case Germany had a rightful demand. The British Government realized this, and in true democratic spirit acted accordingly. Their action was a sign of true greatness. The predominant blessing to the rank and file is "war has been averted."

Pacific Stepping-Stones

(From the Auckland Weekly News)

AN agreement between Britain and the United States concerning Canton and Endenburg islands has at length been reached. These are requisite stepping-stones for effective communication, especially by air, across the Pacific; in particular, it was realized some time ago that their use in this way would simplify the practical problems associated with a service between America and the British lands of the distant southwest. Hence the eagerness of the United States to establish, by occupying these two islands and notifying the occupation, a claim to possess them.

Against this, however, could be set a prior British right, which had not lapsed in spite of a measure of national neglect, and this right was pressed. In the course of discussion it became evident that the best end to all dispute about the matter would be a reciprocal arrangement by which each nation would be assured ample facilities in the Pacific for aviation, and that a shared use of these two desired bases would be feasible as part of the arrangement.

"If there is no war now, there is nothing better in prospect than a prospect in which war is always possible, always near and always capable of being provoked by an incident."—Walter Lippman, noted journalist.

"It is better to stumble at first than to go dead wrong."—R. J. Deaneham, M.P.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Amongst all the hours and hours of broadcasting devoted to the European crisis last week, one of the most significant, and all revealing phrases was uttered by a radio announcer, obviously quite unconscious of its deep meaning, when he informed the world that steps were being taken to ensure the "orderly dismemberment of Czechoslovakia." "Dismemberment" is good! The dictionary meanings are as follows: "To divide member from member," "to separate a limb from the body," "to disjoin," "to tear to pieces."

Poor Czechoslovakia! She is, expected to subject herself without murmuring to the gradual dismemberment of herself—dismemberment to pieces of her land, the separation of her outflung limbs. A surgeon at least gives an anaesthetic, but Czechoslovakia must submit without hollering, as long as the butchers are orderly in their disjoining, tearing apart and dismembering, although she knows full well her whole body will be cut up.

Before a major operation, the patient is at least consulted and told the chances of pulling through, but at the "Four-Power Conference," Czechoslovakia was not even represented. Her body was discussed, and dissected, without so much as "by your leave."

Am I sounding ungrateful to Mr. Chamberlain, Monsieur Daladier, Il Duce and Der Fuehrer, when they have averted war, and settled (?) the controversy? There is, however, one question I would like to ask, exactly what have they settled?

If there be a controversy, there must be two sides to the question, and as there was only one side represented, how can anything be settled?

What actually happened, judging from events, was, that the German leader met the heads of three of the other European powers, and told them exactly what he intended doing, and the other powers okayed it, as long as he proceeded in an orderly way! Afterwards they all sat down to a huge banquet and mutually congratulated themselves on a fine job. They filled with wine, milk of human kindness (and good Rhine wine). Great, wasn't it?—but what a prospect—while we are rejoicing and being so grateful that there is to be no war NOW, wouldn't it be fitting and kind to pause for a moment and think of the eleven million odd Czechs and Slovaks whose lives and property are in jeopardy? I am not ungrateful to Mr. Chamberlain's efforts, as they ensure safety for me and mine for the time being, but I am ashamed that the starch in the British lion's tail has so lost its virtue that small nations can no longer hope to see justice done, or protection from aggressors accorded them, by appealing to the once unbiased judgment of a great people.

If Hitler has a sense of humor, how he must be enjoying himself now. He has obtained exactly the same terms he demanded at Godesberg, terms the French and English so heroically repudiated, he has got what he wanted by giving his bond to "dismember" his present victim in an "orderly" manner.

Chamberlain is being acclaimed by the man in the street, but when the man in the street has had time to think it over, he will in all probability feel a little ashamed that a small nation had to be betrayed to ensure peace.

We are told that the Czech problem has been solved—how has it been solved? It has certainly been solved to the satisfaction of the German dictator, who can now go ahead secure in the knowledge that the once powerful democratic nations of France and England will not lift a finger to help Czechoslovakia. In a year, maybe only a few months, his demands will be stepped up, and there will be some more talk, some more feasting and mutual back-slapping, and the net result will be the same, some more lopped off Czechoslovakia—in an orderly way, of course!

Perhaps it may be thought that I am not aware of the plebiscites to be taken. The plebiscites are not wanted, a serious but, the drafting of Germans into these areas will be done with the same cleverness, far-sightedness and thoroughness as the placing of agitators into the Sudeten areas. Shouldn't Hitler learn to treat his minorities at least half as well as the Czechs have treated their German minorities before he strikes his horror of the treatment accorded his suddenly beloved Sudeten Germans?

The question of the Czechs and Slovaks becoming in 1919 the sovereign people where for so many years they had been the subject, is not fully understood by the world; it is complex enough for those living right on the spot, but this point surely can be understood by the most unversed in European affairs—why should a minority of 3½ millions dictate and trample under a people of eleven million odd, simply because it (the minority) is backed by a great power?

Hungary will be the next to be absorbed in the German Reich; the peasants are land hungry. Soon there will arise a German Empire so powerful that the other nations of Europe will be mere ciphers.

It won't be long now before Der Fuehrer will demand and get the one-time German colonies back, those colonies for the reconquest of which he has already many trained men and women in special training centres. Worse still from the point of view of the British Empire, how long before the desire to throw off the white man's yoke manifests itself with more or less violence in India or South Africa, with their vast colored populations?—perhaps even our Boer friends might feel like repeating 1899-1902 while the nose of the lion still trembles. Already there has been serious unrest in Jamaica, apropos of which the Germans wish to establish an air base somewhere in the West Indian Islands. Any connection? Germans have even put in a bid to build a pipe-line from the Turner Valley oil fields to Vancouver. An octopus has many tentacles! What about Anticosti?

But, we must rejoice, for Peace has been ob-

THE WHEAT SITUATION

Editor, Lacombe Globe:

Dear Sir—Your editorial comments on the wheat situation, titled "Of Bread to All" (Sept. 15th) has come to a Westerner's eyes here in the industrial East and I desire to not alone complement The Globe on its conclusions but to assure you that a widening circle of urban Canadians at this side of the Dominion are already feeling the benefits of the 80-cent "peg," which is the average grower on the prairies—said "doughnut" being made a still more modest affair as a result of the deplorable floods and rains during the depression years.

I very much appreciate the logical following paragraph in your editorial: dealing with the 1938 crop as compared with the disastrous yield of the previous season: "It means that the farmer will have larger expenses to meet. All this added labor and materials mount up to cold, hard cash, and the farmers of the West are, on the whole, singularly short of this necessity."

There are far too many of our contemporaries here in the East who measure the cash value of a crop by the following terms: "The Government at Ottawa on the basis of the 1937 crop has obligated itself to pay 80c for every bushel of wheat grown this year in the West. And on the basis of a 350,000,000 bushel crop this is a commitment of $280,000,000." Thus writes The Mail (Halifax) on Sept. 16th. On a dozen counts the statement is absurd; but it reads well and I prefer your forthright references to production costs and the only place from which they must come, i.e., out of the grain.

The following comparative figures scream their tragic story and deserve the close attention of every wheat farmer:

Year	Bushels	Value
1932	443,001,000	$154,700,000
1938	219,340,000	$295,150,000

That kind of business (!!) happens nowhere among the urban business "front" these days—for the reason, of course, that the Sheriff, Etc., Etc., and has been turned-out everywhere, except "down on the farm."

We will get nowhere, Mr. Editor, until a technique is found under which the farmers get to gether and remain that way.

Toronto, Ont. MERCHANT.

Appeals For Unity In Athabasca Vote

Appeal for the nomination in open convention of one candidate acceptable to the ranks and file of all political parties opposed to Social Credit in the Athabasca constituency, was made Wednesday by John I. McFarland, chairman of the Provincial Unity Council of Alberta. Mr. McFarland's suggestion was addressed to the leaders of the political parties concerned in the by-election, and these were asked to lend their personal support to such policy.

"The situation in Athabasca has been carefully studied by our Council, and we are convinced the nomination of more than one candidate to contest the by-election against the Social Credit nominee is not in the best interests of the province," Mr. McFarland stated in announcing his action.

"I have asked the political leaders to recommend to the friends and supporters of their respective parties in Athabasca the holding of an open convention, to secure a candidate who can command the enthusiastic and whole-hearted support of people of all parties," the chairman of the Unity Movement stated.

"There is doubt as to whether a nomination on any party basis can enlist sufficient support to secure a victory at the polls," Mr. McFarland stated.

tained, we are told, and our voices should join in the general rejoicings! However, I doubt if peace has been attained, rather war has merely been postponed, and unless the democratic countries are desirous of being led by the nose to their doom by dictators, they must take a strong stand, and that mighty soon.

We hear so much of the agreement signed by Hitler and Chamberlain; are our memories so short, or our intelligence waning, to forget so soon that "scrap of paper" in 1917?

Gull Lake

(From Our Own Correspondent)

GULL LAKE—The 1938 crop is now in the bins in this district with the exception of some of E. C. Moore's crop. ## Clive

(From Our Own Correspondent)

CLIVE. — Miss Jean Rushion has moved from the hotel to Mrs. D. Hinkins's home.

Mrs. L. Wagner has canned twenty quarts of peas, which she picked from her garden within the past week. This year has set a new record for green peas, as the plants blossomed again with the warm September weather.

We are very sorry to hear that Mrs. Louis Wagner has been confined to her bed for a month. Her friends all wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Vera Klaxon of Edmonton is here visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. Black. She will be returning home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Morrical and family are moving from Clive to live in B.C. Many of the small boys and girls who generally celebrate Halloween by carrying around grinning pumpkins are afraid they will have to change their plans for this reason—the pumpkins have all been so large this year that the very small pranksters doubt whether they can carry the heavy hollow pumpkins. And even the older ones who would be able to carry them doubt if the overgrown pumpkins will be small enough to flash outside such small openings as the ordinary house window.

Blackfalds

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BLACKFALDS. — The dance which the W.W. had arranged for last Friday was postponed out of respect for Mrs. W. Waghorn.

Miss Jean Farewell left last Friday for Calgary, where she has entered the General Hospital, not the Holy Cross as previously reported, for training.

Last Sunday's service at the United Church was conducted by Mr. Arthur Carr, who also played the organ for the hymns. Next Sunday the Rev. A. L. Carr hopes for a good attendance at the annual Thanksgiving Service at 3 p.m. He is also conducting a similar service at Blindman School at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Little Wilfred McAlister recently broke a bone in his arm while playing at the school. He was immediately taken to the Lacombe Hospital by his parents and is now making good progress toward recovery.

Our fine weather was interrupted on Monday by a heavy shower of rain, which has put a temporary stoppage to threshing, of which, however, little remains to be done.

Mrs. Delbert Krause has been unfortunate lately in losing all but two of a flock of about 20 geese. It is believed that skunks or coyotes were the miscreants.

Spruceville

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRUCEVILLE. — At the last meeting of the U.F.W.A. the ladies decided to make a rich three-tier Christmas cake and raffle it at the chicken supper. This cake will be matured and perfect for somebody's Christmas party. Novel table decorations were also decided upon. We are glad to report that Mrs. Henry Stout is beginning to show a little improvement after the severe heart attack she suffered last week.

Monday morning Mrs. Meinzinger and her two sons, Joe and Harry, started on their 2500-mile return trip to Chatham, Ontario. They have been visiting in this and the Leslieville districts for the past two months.

On Sunday, Mrs. Laura Young, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Young and Jelmur Johnson, drove out to Camrose via Bashaw, returning through Wetaskiwin. At Bashaw they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Proudfoot, two of Spruceville's young married folk, whom they found well. Harry is in charge of the U.G.G. elevator at Bashaw. There will be a Thanksgiving Service at Spruceville Hall Sunday next, October 9, with appropriate music and decorations.

Lakeside

(From Our Own Correspondent)

LAKESED. — Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cluchey are returning to their home in Boyle on Thursday. Mr. Cluchey has been assisting Mr. Wright during harvesting.

Quite a large number attended the School Fair at Lacombe last Wednesday. Our school was placed second in the parade and received third place for the vegetable booth.

Friday afternoon the school children went to Lacombe to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which they all enjoyed greatly. The School Board supplied a ticket for each pupil and thanks are due Arthur Bauer, Mrs. P. Boys, Mrs. H. Peterson and Chester Martin for taking the children in their cars.

Threshing in the district is about 90 per cent completed. The heavy rain on Monday, however, will hold work up for a few days.

ELECTRICITY

BENEFITS EVERYONE!

Whether you live in town or in the country you benefit through today's wide use of electricity.

The new processes and manufacturing methods which electricity has made possible are responsible for most of the articles used in your home, your business, and on your farm.

Your radio, whether battery or batteryless, is of use only because electricity makes broadcasting possible. Your weekly movie is a child of electricity too.

You can phone for a doctor, or a pound of tea, only because of electricity. That same electricity has made it possible for your local merchants to keep their merchandizing methods up to the standard of city stores.

These are only a few of the many ways in which electricity benefits you, whether you live in an ALL-ELECTRIC HOME, or one that is still to be equipped with these time-saving and labor-saving devices.

THE GREATER THE USE OF ELECTRICITY,
THE GREATER THE JOY OF LIVING.

Sunny Crest Specs

By SPY

SUNNY CREST—Sunny Crest girls took both prizes in the Magic Baking Powder cake special at the Lacombe School Fair last week.

Peggy Johnston won the wrist watch given for the best cake in the Magic Baking Powder cake special and Fay Saunders won the fountain pen as second prize. Fay also won second two years ago.

The day of the Fair was a great day for surprises for Peggy Johnston. Peggy takes her school studies at home under the supervision of her mother, and it was the first time she had exhibited at the Fair. With the cake special heading, she also won first in cookies and first in canning and in sweet peas. Her white and brown bread won second and third prizes and she also came second with her school lunch. Now Peggy wishes she had started to exhibit long ago.

On the whole, Sunny Crest did not make a good showing this year. Fair date came pretty close to threatening days. There was not the usual showing on vegetables, and they dropped from a close second in sports to third this year.

Those interested in the School Fair should be sure to attend the meeting in the Town Hall Thursday, Oct. 13. Let's plan on a bigger and better showing for Sunny Crest next year.
